Community Progress is the joint responsibility of all those who make up the community. Business people realize their responsibility, and attempt to make their contribution. And the responsibility goes on to each and every resident. The dollars that you spend in your home community are the dollars that work to benefit you and your family — in civic improvements — modern facilities — better living! The seeds you plant in another's garden build a harvest for him, not you. So, true civic progress must come from local people, local investment in our own future. Like seed when planted yield a harvest, so do the dollars spent in the home community. And dollar for dollar, you get a good deal in Appomattax The business places listed on this page are leaders in our community, helping it to grow and be strong.

They know that to win and keep your busines... must give you service, and ready with what ... want when you want it — at a price that mee... competition. And part of what you get when ... trade at home is civic progress. You get more ... just the merchandise across the counter, the ser... vice of one particular deal. You get more than ... for the home-spent dollars keep moving through... the community to benefit one and all. You d... kiss those home-spent dollars goodbye! In this ... it is more important than ever to be a respon... citizen in your home community.
